

Louis Pasteur

<http://gardenofpraise.com/ibdpast.htm>

Louis Pasteur's father	against the animal disease called anthrax.
The child Louis showed an	early talent for art.
By the time he was twenty-six years old	a single thread 1000-3000 feet long.
His study of fermentation led to	to prevent rabies after he was bitten by a dog.
To pasteurize milk you do not	he had earned a doctorate and was a professor.
Heating of milk	kills bacteria that can cause disease.
His study of bacteriology	heat it to the boiling point.
People in France raised silk worms	had been a soldier in Napoleon's army.
Pasteur developed a vaccine	the process of pasteurization of milk.
He developed vaccines for people against	and fed them mulberry leaves.
Pasteur vaccinated the young boy Joseph Meister	led to his Germ Theory of Disease.
A silkworm cocoon is composed of	cholera, diphtheria, tuberculosis, and smallpox.