

John Chapman (Johnny Appleseed)

<http://gardenofpraise.com/ibdchap.htm>

John Appleseed's real name	follower of Emmanuel Swedenborg.
He planted	cover over 100,000 square miles.
He carried sixteen bushels	was the dog fennel plant.
In his lifetime he planted enough trees to	because he didn't want to harm animals.
One invasive plant he started	was John Chapman
He charged	when the British and the Indians were coming.
He used the money he collected to	a sack as a shirt.
Sometimes he wore	of apple seeds down the Ohio River.
He did not eat meat	plant more trees or he gave it away.
Chapman was a religious	apple orchards everywhere he went.
John warned the settlers	only a few cents for his trees.
Every year in Fort Wayne, Indiana	a festival is held in Johnny Appleseed's honor.